pre-meeting, 17. 03. 2010, Frankfurt/M, Germany

Dear colleagues and members of NECLIME,

Thanks to your positive response to the suggestion to establish a working group on taxonomy within NECLIME it is my pleasure to announce a pre-meeting held in Frankfurt on March 17, 2010. The location is the conference room of the Senckenberg building Kuhwaldstr. 55 indicated on the map below. We will start around 9:00 a.m. All NECLIME members and other colleagues interested in the subject are welcome to join us.

The pre-meeting aims to collect ideas for possible focuses and potential objectives of such a working group. A report on the pre-meeting will be presented to a broader NECLIME community at the EPPC in Budapest where we can discuss further proceeding and decide on a working plan.

To open up discussion two contributions are scheduled so far:

Zlatko Kvacek: Towards new perspectives in plant taxonomy of the European Neogene

Dieter Uhl et al.: Taxonomy under the perspective of systematics-based palaeoclimate reconstruction (working title)

After that there will be time for extensive discussion, also after lunch break in the afternoon.

Feel free to present any materials you would like to discuss, beamer and notebook will be at your disposal.

Please contact us if you need any assistance to find accommodation in Frankfurt, or for any other concern or with any suggestion.

We are looking forward to seeing you all in Frankfurt.

Yours,
Angela A. Bruch, Volker Mosbrugger and Torsten Utescher
